We invite you to learn more about us, about the way we work, our facilities and about our various brands, of course. Since the very beginning, Marnevall has always been an independent Hungarian company specialized in the production and sale of frozen breaded, fully cooked, ready-to-eat meat and vegetarian products.

For many years, our plants have fully automatized state-of-the-art production lines, producing our products in large quantities. Our quality level of approval is important for us, and this is the reason why we systematically invest in our factories and manufacture our products ourselves. We, therefore, insist on producing at the highest European quality standards.
